Supreme Court of U. S. Denies Leo M. Frank Habeas Corpus Writ

Refuses to Take Man Convicted of Mary Phagan Murder Out of Jurisdiction of State of Georgia.

Washington, April 19.—The Supreme court of the United States today dismissed the appeal of Leo M. Frank, of Atlanta, Ga., convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan from the decision of the United States district court of Georgia, denying him a writ of habeas corpus.

The court refused to take Frank out of the jurisdiction of the State of Georgia, which now are free to carry out a death sentence imposed upon him for the murder of the factory girl.

The court held that the absence of Frank from the courtroom when the jury brought in the verdict of guilty and also the alleged mob influence in Atlanta at the time the trial was held could not be construed as nullifying the judgment of guilty.

The decision seems to indicate that Frank has exhausted every legal device to prevent hanging.

The decision was by a divided court. Justice Pitney delivered the opinion of the court. Justice Holmes delivered a dissenting opinion in which Justice Hughes concurred.

Will Now Ask for Sentence Commutation.

Atlanta, Ga., April 19.—"Naturally I am disappointed. How did the justices stand on the decision?"

Without losing his composure and seemingly unmoved, Leo M. Frank received the news of the decision of the supreme court of the United States dismissing his appeal for habeas corpus proceedings with the above comment.

There now remains only the desperate chance of a petition to the state board of pardons and the governor for a commutation of the death sentence.

Attorney for Frank will at once begin preparing this petition.

Governor Slaton preferred this afternoon not to discuss the petition until such time as it may come before him in official form.

Frank Still Confident.

"I am confident I will prevail. Truth and justice will eventually prevail. So conscious of the right of my cause and innocent as I am, I have never faltered in spirit. I still have mine and hopes on the future. Eventually I will be a free and exonerated man."

This was the statement of Leo Frank to a reported visitor tonight. Standing in the shadow of the gallows, his last fight lost in the courts, Frank is perfecting his physical and mental self for the future, when he expects to be a liberated man, cleared of the stigma of murder.

"I have never once lost faith," he continued. "True, it is no picnic, enduring confinement and de-

TO DEDICATE NEW CHURCH

Catholics Invite Public to Attend Dedication Services Tomorrow Morning at 10:30 O'Clock.

With several out of town priests in attendance and the rendition of a specially prepared musical program and the edifice tastefully decorated for the occasion, the Church of St. Columba, the first Catholic church in Dothan, will be dedicated tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Rev. Edward P. Allen, of Mobile, Bishop of Alabama, assisted by others of the Catholic faith, will be in charge of the ceremonies. Fathers English, Savage, Cannon and St. Lawrence of Montgomery, have been invited and are expected to be in attendance. Father Genet, of the local church, will also be present.

An excellent musical program prepared under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Cole, will be carried out, and this will be an interesting feature of the dedication of the first Catholic church in this city. The edifice will be appropriately decorated with flowers.

All Are Invited.

One of the members of the church said today that all are invited to attend, and that the Catholics are hopeful that the public will respond liberally to this invitation to witness the formal dedication of the church.

There are not very many Catholics in Dothan, but those here have worked faithfully in an effort to build an edifice, and now that it is completed, they have extended a cordial invitation to all to attend one of the first important ceremonies in the little church.

INFANTS BODY IS FOUND IN WOODS

Bessemer, Ala., April 19.—Two men while going through the woods in the neighborhood of Raymond Sunday, saw where dogs had been digging, and they discovered a human foot sticking out.

Under the dirt was found a doll box in which was the body of an infant. The coroner was notified and will investigate.

ATTENTION CIRCLE NO. 1.

Circle Number 1, under the leadership of Mrs. George Malone, and Mrs. R. L. Gaines, will hold their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Malone tomorrow (Wednesday afternoon) at 4:00 o'clock. As this is the first meeting, it is earnestly desired that every member be present.

PYTHAGORUS LODGE MEETING TONIGHT

M'COMBS DENIES TROUBLE WITH WIFE

New York, April 19.—Denial that he and his wife have separated or contemplated divorce, as was stated in a story printed today was made by William F. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee today, at his office, 96 Broadway.

"Any statement of separation or intended divorce is entirely new to me," said Mr. McCombs. "There is no truth in this report but I don't wish to dignify it with a denial."

TO REVIEW BIG FLEET IN NEW YORK HARBOR

President to Look Over Flower of United States Navy on May 17th.—Will Sail for the Panama Canal.

Washington, April 19.—President Wilson will review the Atlantic fleet in New York harbor, May 17, Secretary Daniels announced tonight after a conference with Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief of the fleet. The review will be followed by a water carnival at night and a land parade probably the next day.

The exact number of war craft to be assembled at New York has not yet been decided but practically all of the battleships, many of the cruisers, gunboats, and destroyers attached to the fleet and some of the submarines and auxiliaries will be ordered out.

It is now planned to have the fleet complete target practice at Tangier Sound by May 5 or 6 and leave about the 8th for New York. The blue jackets and marines will be given a week's shore leave there from May 3 to the 16th.

The fleet will pass out of New York harbor not later than May 20 for Narragansett Bay for ten days' maneuvers with Newport as a base. Between June 1 and 21 the vessels will go to their home yards for docking, supplies and steaming trials. The next rendezvous will be in Hampton Roads some after June 21 and not later than June 25 the fleet will steam for San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal. Manoeuvring en route, the ships, it is planned, will pass through the canal July 4.

Secretary Daniels laid the plans for the review before President Wilson tonight and the President consented to remain in New York for two days, May 17 and 18.

Mr. Daniels also discussed with the President the formal opening of the Panama canal in July. The President said it would be impossible for him to be present at the ceremony.

NEGRO BADLY CUT

Arthur Murray, a negro, had his throat badly cut as the result of an encounter with Ben Danzy, another negro, who is now in jail. It is feared that the negro Murray will not live, as he received a dangerous gash in the neck. Danzy also received a few slight gashes, it is said.

GOING AFTER THEM.

W. C. Strickland, Lewis Jordan, F. B. Culver and Holt Simonson left today for Dead Lakes, Fla., on a fishing trip. It is hoped by other local fishermen that these experts will not catch all the nice ones in Dead Lakes.

A WOMAN DOCTOR

"Eugenics is a necessary factor in the future of the race. The average American girl is unfit for motherhood." This may be true, but if weak and silly girls passing from girlhood to womanhood would only rely, as thousands do, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—that simple remedy made from roots and herbs—to restore the system to a normal healthy condition, it would cause many ills from which they suffer to disappear, so that motherhood might become the joy of that hour.

CONTRACT WITH THOMAS SIGNED

City Clerk Lisenby and Engineer Heller Submit Reports on Decorations and Fixtures.

At a meeting of the Building Committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon a contract was signed with Fred Thomas as manager of the City Hall auditorium for the approaching season. Mr. Thomas is to receive 10 per cent of the net proceeds on attractions booked into the auditorium.

City Clerk R. W. Lisenby and City Engineer G. E. Heller, who were appointed as a committee on decorations and fixtures, and who recently made a trip to Birmingham in this capacity, submitted reports. The decorations for the arch and overhead stage were decided upon.

F-4 IS LIFTED AND TOWED IN NEARER SHORE

Honolulu, T. H., April 19.—The United States submarine F-4, submerged outside the harbor since March 25, was raised twelve feet early today and towed ashore until it rested on the upward inclining bottom. The salvaging crew postponed further work until the lifting tackle was strengthened.

The satisfactory work done thus far in towing the submarine it is believed will make unnecessary the pontoon methods of raising the craft.

Diver Loughman, who became entangled in the lifting cables Saturday, is recovering slowly.

GEN. VILLA RETREATS TO AGUAS CALIENTES

Reported that He Lost 600 Men in the Fighting at Celaya.

Washington, April 19.—General Villa retreated yesterday from Tepic to Aguas Calientes, with fourteen troop trains, according to official dispatches to the state department late today.

General Villa announced that he will reorganize his forces at Aguas Calientes for another attack upon General Obregon in the vicinity of Celaya. Villa's losses in the fighting at Celaya are estimated officially at 6,000 men. Obregon's losses are unknown.

MEN IN ALASKA GET DIVIDE TO DEFEND CLAIMS

Seward, Alaska, April 19.—Rumors that the Alaska engineering commission had decided to throw open to settlement the sixty year terminal tract here required by the government with the purchase of the Alaska Northern Railroad caused a stampede today of squatters, who have occupied almost all of the tract.

Many prominent business men and several women are among these squatters, who have armed themselves with rifles to prevent claim jumping. United States District Judge Fred M. Brown, had planned to obtain the use of this tract as a temporary camp for the hundreds of men hurrying to Seward from all parts of Alaska and from the United States as a result of the announcement that Seward would be the tidewater terminus of the government railroad to Fairbanks.

Deputy United States Attorney Whitlow said today the land belonged to the Alaska Northern until the sale of the road to the government was completed by the payment July 1 of the first installment of the purchase price.

Germans Preparing To Launch Attack By Both Land And Sea

HEAD OF EUROPEAN NEWS AGENCY COMMITS SUICIDE

London, April 19.—Baron Julius Clemens Herbert Reuter, managing director of the Reuter Telegram company, the great European news agency, committed suicide Sunday, shooting himself in his private home. The baron was 63 years old.

Grief over the death of his wife, who had not yet been buried, is believed to have caused the baron's suicide. The couple had been inseparable during life.

TO NAME BALL CLUB TONIGHT

The directors of the Dothan Baseball Association will meet tonight about 7:30 o'clock at headquarters for the purpose of selecting the playing name for the home team this season. All those who have not turned in names for the club to the Secretary, J. S. Lisenby, should do so this afternoon. The winner of the contest is to receive a season ticket that will admit one lady to all games played here.

DISORDERS IN PETROGRAD OVER PRICE OF MEAT

Petrograd, April 19.—Petrograd butchers refused to sell meat today in protest against a government order warning retailers that prices must not be raised above rates fixed by the government. Disorders resulted, some shops being partially wrecked before the police gained the upperhand. Butchers who conceded meat will be punished.

AT THE PALACE.

"Mignon" in its lyrical form on the grand opera stage, enjoys a popularity which began half a century ago and which increases rather than diminishes with the passing years. This is due to its picturesque and stirring plot, which lends itself so well to film dramatization.

"Mignon" is taken from Goethe's immortal "Wilhelm Meister." The former heroine pictured by Miss Beatrice Michelena, star of this capable producing company, beautifully portrays the emotions of imperilled beauty and girlish innocence in her characterization of "Mignon."

In "Mignon" will be found the highest type of photo-dramatic perfection—action, excitement, thrills, beauty and scenery unsurpassed as background for one of the world's most poignant stories and tender romances.

As literature, as story, as dramatic plot, "Mignon" occupies a position which no other imaginative work enjoys—a position of popularity with women and servants, rich and poor. As a motion picture its producers believe they have given it a permanent and prominent place in the new art of the cinema.

Toutin's Master Stroke Believed to Be Imminent. Will Use Every Available Submarine in the Attack.

London, April 19.—Germany's master stroke against England—a combined attack by sea and air—is believed to be imminent. According to advices received here today, the German admiral is sending against the British coast every available submarine with the intention of crippling the British fleet if possible, and is planning to follow up this attack with another of the most powerful battleships and cruisers while Zeppelins and aeroplanes co-operate by assailing the coast fortifications and inland towns.

An Amsterdam dispatch states that five German torpedo boats were sighted near North Hinder lightship by the captain of a London steamer on Sunday, while a Newcastle vessel sighted several torpedo boats and four submarines 25 miles northwest of Yaulden steaming west.

Trawlers just returned to English ports report that a flotilla of small warships believed to be German, is cruising in the North sea. The force of special cruisers called to duty following the Zeppelin raid near London is still held in readiness for emergency.

There was a heavy fog over the channel today and it is possible that the German aerial fleet may take advantage of this.

Two new Zeppelins are reported to have arrived at Bremen, while all the German aeroplanes formerly at Brauchfeld have been transferred to Antwerp.

Russian Strengthen Positions in Mountains.

Petrograd, April 19.—With the first phase of the Russian campaign in the Carpathians ended by weather conditions, the case's troops are strengthening the positions they have won in the mountain ranges and opening new operations to clear the Austro-German forces from Bukovina and eastern Galicia.

As soon as this task is completed and normal weather conditions return the main effort—the invasion of Hungary—will be resumed.

Turks Checked in Effort to Reach Persian Gulf.

Constantinople, April 19.—Turkish efforts to reach the Persian gulf have received a setback, it was officially advised here today. The war office issued a statement that the naval of British reinforcements in the Home district had forced the Ottoman troops to retire.

The war ministry also announced today that supplies of wheat and barley will be distributed under government supervision in order to prevent an increase in price.

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

There should be used very sparingly at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is a permanent emulsion coconut oil (which is pure and graceful), is better than any soap or shampoo you can use. Two spoonfuls will wash the hair and scalp thoroughly. Rub the hair with water and then with the emulsion. It is a creamy butter, which does not clog the pores, and exfoliates the scalp. The hair dries quickly and is soft and silky. It is pure, safe and easy to use. It is a permanent emulsion of coconut oil and a few ounces of water. It is a pure and graceful.

PROFESSIONAL ADVISOR.

The Advertiser is perved, chagrined, vexed, disappointed, mortified, confused, dismayed, humiliated, shamed, outraged and as mad as a March hare, if they get any madder than the other kind, because it has searched everything but the Scriptures to find a new place to attack the Alabama legislature for not doing everything it has so foolishly advocated and proposed from January first, up to date.

It was the boy, or the girl, or the old gal, who started out trying to array the legislature against the governor, because as soon as it counted noses 2 found that the legislature was somewhat against local option.

Then it very foolishly, unwisely, untimely and indiscreetly tried to force the governor into the fight of selecting the heads of both branches of the legislature, and by a hard night's fight of it, did finally succeed in getting the governor to sign an article, where he urged the legislature to elect Johnson and Lewis.

Every posted man in Alabama knew at the time, that that particular play was to head off prohibition legislation. It was a move to dictate committee appointments, so that any prohibition bill that was presented couldn't be taken from the committee with a steam derrick, as the committees would have been named by men who were opposed to prohibition.

But this plan was foiled, even though the governor's ill-advised friends besieged him till they dragged him into the fight. He had no interest in the matter.

Since that first attack of the liquor interests was foiled The Advertiser and its adherents have thrown up their hands in horror, and proclaimed from the house tops that the legislature was picking at the governor, and trying to tie his hands, to keep his administration from being a success. Absolutely, the legislature hadn't touched the governor. The legislature insisted on doing what it alone had the right to do—to name the heads of its two branches. Not in the history of Alabama has any governor tried to dictate the legislative officers before.

Now then, as to the bond issue, every Advertiser reader in Alabama knew that that paper was busy standing on the corner whittling and spitting between its fingers, with its back toward the main issue, when Jelks was giving out $2,000,000 bond issue statements as a relief to the present shameful situation of the State treasury. The Advertiser didn't raise its hand to advocate it. It didn't believe it expedient; neither does it now believe it. First place, to have admitted that the state was in the hole that badly, would have been an admission that The Advertiser had made another one of its egregious blunders in loudly proclaiming that the State was to be redeemed when O'Neal took hold.

Every reader knows what is promised for the ex-governor. They know he was to put the State in "safe and sane" condition, and redeem it from fanaticism. That he allowed a band of crooks to get away with great sums of the State's money was suspected before he retired, but nothing so great as the recent scandals were expected. It doesn't take an old resident of Alabama to know that O'Neal's reign was erratic and unsafe, rather than safe and sane. He didn't pick friends very well. His friends imposed upon him. Gov. Henderson isn't going to allow that to happen again, and allow that to happen to him, not likely. He is a rather shrewd business man, and doesn't take too long to judge who are worthy of trust and who are not.

The Advertiser has ridiculed the various committees. It never thought they should have existed, but since those committees have unearthed so many things that stink, it now says, in a recent burst, almost an apology:

"The Advertiser says frankly that it believes that the work of the committee will be beneficial to the State, that it will improve the taxation system, that it will recommend needed economies."

Something it has never before hinted at. Wouldn't now, but seeing how the people of Alabama are looking on with such interest at the probing.

Gov. Henderson wouldn't have dared make his campaign for governor and tell the people then that he favored the State's selling two million dollars worth of bonds. His campaign managers wouldn't have allowed him to make such a statement, not then.

He, of course, had no way of knowing the state was in the hole that much. He had not realized how much money had been stolen, at that time. It is but natural for him to want some quick relief, as soon as he checked up and saw the situation, he thought the bond issue the best plan. We are not yet prepared to say that he isn't right, as may be, but then there are able men who differ with him. Some men who have made financial successes, differ with the Governor. It doesn't mean that because two men, or a dozen men, cannot agree on a financial proposition, that they are grappling at each other's throats. They ought to be able to differ on those questions, and still be friends, and work together in other matters, as the present legislature has done with the Governor. The Governor thought the prohibition bill shouldn't have been passed and vetoed it. It was passed over his veto. He stepped into the local politics of the city of Montgomery and vetoed another bill and it was promptly passed. But most of the things the legislature has wanted he has wanted. They have worked very well together, we think, considering the chagrined friends trying to advise him what course to pursue.

What could have been gained by passing the bond bill before the recess? The bonds cannot be sold, if passed, till three months after the final adjournment of the legislature. If, after the committee on finance and taxation, recommends to the body in July that a bond issue is necessary, then it will be passed. Certainly these men, experienced in finance, and having several months to make investigations, will know fully as much about the State's needs, as the Governor, or any one else. Then let them be heard from.

And as to Lieutenant-Governor Kilby—he had no other option than act on his own judgment. He has been a successful business man. He fought for the right to name the Senate committees, a right he should have had, and Gov. Henderson opposed him in all the ways at his command, and for no apparent reason, than to pressing the true sentiment of the people. That is, both sides will stand for local option instead of prohibition.

Really, Kilby had a right to make a fight on the Governor, but he has not. He has behaved admirably, under the circumstances.

Outside of the liquor question and the bond issue, we fail to see where the Governor and the legislature have differed much. They will not differ much when the legislature meets back in the summer.

The Advertiser thinks the State's credit would have been good had the bond issue passed.

Who is trying to buy something on the State's credit and failed? The State's credit may be sadly dripped, but it is good enough to get money at as low a rate of interest as it ever did under the same financial condition of the country.

Just remember this: The bond issue was not an issue in the last campaign. No one knew that so many bags of money had been dragged out of the capitol, and they couldn't know the need of it. Therefore, the Governor has no promises out along that line. He isn't to be criticised for wanting to start off with a clean slate, with urgent debts paid, but we all know they are not his. He can't help it, but he suggests a way out. He shouldn't be disappointed to find some who oppose this particular plan of remedying the condition. That's why the Constitution provides that there shall be a governor, and also a legislature. Had there been no need of a legislature, and had it been the idea of the framers of the dear old unsullied Constitution to have the governor make the laws, it would have left off the useless body, known and cursed as the legislature.

We want to hear more of these "indignation meetings," reports of which locate one at Mobile and one at Jasper. An ex-governor one held at Guntersville, in the home of the "War Horse of Marshall," and the next thing you hear of will be one of those meetings being reported correctly, or

GERMAN GIVES ADVICE TO THE UNITED STATES

Constantinople, April 20.—(via the Hagne and London, April 15, 1917 a. m.)—You understand I am merely the representative of a government, therefore, an in position to answer many questions you put," said Baron Huns von Wangenheim, German ambassador to Turkey, during an interview with the correspondent of the Associated Press on April 16. He questions dealt with assertions made by newspapers favorable to the triple entente that Turkey was inclined to enter the war by Germany.

Truth Will Come Out.

"I am glad to see a neutral voice of your standing display efficient interest in the behalf of truth to send it now here," continued the baron. "Look around and see what a picture of truth is contained in these assertions. A reply to them should be fittingly come from the Turkish government. I am unwilling, nevertheless, to say anything having any controversial character. In the end the truth will out. We can afford to keep on the road of veracity and directness, and it is unnecessary altogether to descend into the gutter of allegations, falsehoods, rumors and intrigues.

"I wish you would remember," said the ambassador, "that I am speaking you in a private and not an official capacity, and that whatever I may say is understood to have strictly that character and no other."

Baron von Wangenheim admitted that the furnishing of arms and ammunition to the allies by American firms was occupying the attention of Turkey. He continued:

"I have no official comment to make on this matter, however. My private opinion though may interest my many warm friends in the United States. I may say that I am disappointed to the utmost. In my private opinion the United States is injuring seriously its good reputation before the entire world, which is regrettable in view of the splendid past of that country in its international relations.

Advice for Americans.

Later the ambassador expressed belief that the American people would soon realize that the price thus paid in national reputation was altogether too high.

"I am confident," he said, "that the Americans will return to Washington's political testament of March 1798, warning against foreign entanglements, because they must realize that only the strictest neutrality in spirit and in letter can keep the United States outside the realm of situations that would necessitate the keeping of a larger fleet and stronger army. Furnishing arms and ammunition to the entente powers can result only in the useless protraction of this war, and further unnecessary bloodshed. The ultimate result cannot be influenced by the United States attitude, which may retard

OFFICIALS BEGIN PRISON SENTENCE

Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—Mayor Donn Roberts and fourteen other former officials of Terre Haute, Ind., passed through here this morning on their way to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. They arrived at the prison at 10:00 o'clock.

Among those taken to prison and the sentences they received are:

Mayor Roberts, six years and a fine of $2,000.

Dennis Shea, former sheriff of Vigo county, five years and $1,000 fine.

Eli H. Redman, judge of the circuit court, five years and $1,000 fine.

Edward Driscoll, assistant city engineer three years, fine of $500.

George Ehrenhardt, member of board of works, three years, fine of $500.

PLAN TO SETTLE GREAT STRIKE IN CHICAGO ON FOOT

Chicago, April 19.—Sessions designed to bring about settlement of a strike of 16,000 carpenters here were begun today by the State Board of Arbitration. The board is meeting at the request of Governor Dumm.

"I view the strike as a calamity," Governor Dumm said, after a conference with members of the board. "Chicago and the State of Illinois are just getting a period of prosperity nicely under way when a strike is pushed in the way of a period of business activity."

The men are striking for an increase of from 65 to 70 cents an hour. The employers offered an increase of two and a half cents per hour.

SUMMARY OF WAR STATUS

Abandonment by the German General Staff of plans for a general offensive in France is inferred in Rome from information received there. It is said this decision is indicated by official communications to the Italian cabinet, as well as by statements of German in official circles, and that hope of penetration further into French territory has been put aside.

A Geneva dispatch gives the impression that the Austrians and Germans have decided to concentrate their energies on the eastern campaign. A war council, presided over by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, is said to have determined to transfer to Poland the Austrian heavy artillery now before Verdun and to send to Grozny, Galicia, the Hungarian cavalry now in the west.

The situation in the east still is uncertain. Confident assertions are being made that the German advances in the Carpathians have not been offset by the Russian claims that the Austrians are attacking the mountainous regions.

It is reported from Rome that Italy and Austria have failed to reach any agreement.

Austria-Hungary will rest her troops in the large interiors and then reinforce them. The Austrian war office, however, maintains that the Austro-German forces are gaining further victories.

Count Alvaro de Romanones, former premier of Spain, has made a public statement that "a solemn declaration" should be made by Spain to show her sympathies are in the war, without violating her neutrality. He pointed out that Spain's relations with the Triple Entente, consisting of Great Britain, France and Russia, had been more and more friendly during recent years.

Minor incidents in the war include the loss of the British submarine E-15, which ran ashore in the Dardanelles, twenty-four officers and men being taken prisoner by the Turks and seven being probably lost; the bombardment of a Turkish encampment on the Sinai Peninsula by British aeroplanes and the torpedoing by a submarine in the North Sea of the Greek steamer Ellis Pontani.

It is reported from Rome that Italy and Austria have failed to reach any agreement.

Renter's Athens correspondent says the bombardment of the Dardanelles was resumed Saturday. A Turkish aeroplane circled over Tenedos and successfully dropped bombs in the port and at several warships. Allied aeroplanes pursued the craft, which escaped.

OLD MEN FOR

OFFICE BOYS

From the New York Sun

A Broadway business man was talking to a friend who was looking for a good office boy. "Cut out the boys," he said with confidence, "and get an old man who is willing to work for less than a man's wages. I began to do that a year ago and I never did a better thing."

"I got the suggestion from a man not in business, but a physician. He had ordered some article or other which had not come promptly and he came in person to see about it. I told him, which was true, that I had been bothered so by changing my office boys that I couldn't get it to him. Then he blew out at me and asked me why I didn't get an old man to do office work and I wouldn't have any more bother."

"It looked so different at first that I laughed at him, but he insisted so that it was the only cure that I concluded to try it. I knew of an old chap, so honest and living with his son, dying him how he would like to be office boy for me. He laughed just as I did at first, but I insisted on his trying it and he agreed to come and do the best he could, but wouldn't guarantee that he would be satisfactory."

"He came the next day and though he was a bit slow at first he was always ready and willing and in a week or so I was so well satisfied with him that I wouldn't have traded him for all the boys I had been bothered with for five years. He isn't perfect, nor is anybody for that matter, but he is reliable and honest, never soldiers on me, and doesn't smoke cigarettes or read dime novels, isn't fresh around the store, is always polite and is always on time."

"I pay him $7 a week, and he is glad enough to get it, and he isn't so old but that he is good for at least ten years of duty, which will also be ten years of comfort for me and the entire store. I don't say that any old man will be as satisfactory as this one, but I do say that nine-tenths of the old fellows will make better office boys than the average we have to put up with."

"Try an old man for an office boy and see if you can do any worse than you have been doing. Several of my friends are doing it and so far they are all pleased with the change."

day. An overwhelming crowd saw the game. Until the ninth inning Ellington held Columbia to one hit. The hitting of Sabrie, Tyson and Reagan featured.

Sitting Hens Don't Like Ticking Watches.

Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, has been offering prizes for the best letters telling how to discourage sitting hens. The prize winning letters are published in the current issue. One of the letters follows:

"Using incubators to hatch all my chicks, I was confronted every year by the problem of breaking up broody hens, especially since I am keeping the heavy breeds."

"I had been unable to break them up quickly and satisfactorily until last spring, when I tried the following method with the best of results: As soon as a hen wants to hatch I take an old watch which has a loud tick and put it in the nest under the hen. She will at once become nervous and will stay on a nest only a few days at the most."

INDIAN CAVALRY IN MIMIC CHARGE STARTLES SOLDIERS

Strange Scene Enacted in Northern France—Indian's Horsemanship Remarkable

Northern France, April 16.—(via London 3:25 p. m.)—On an elevated plateau of northern France as level as a slice of the Texas panhandle there was enacted today one of the strangest scenes ever witnessed in France. The actors were Indian cavalry brought from their native land, with their horses and equipment, for use in the British army when the expected "big push" begins. The spectators were khaki clad British officers, French peasants and correspondents. The Indian force was in fine trim, for the April sun shone brightly and nothing so appeals to the Indians as the sun.

As yet denied an actual battle, the Indian cavalry had foregathered for a demonstration of its horsemanship and its prowess with lance, rifle and sword. The first feat was a mimic charge in which hundreds of dusky horsemen swept across the plain in lines of imaginary foes, slashing right and left with their sabres or piercing with slender lances straw stuffed sacks which dotted the ground. Their control of their horses was superb and their spirit and agility astonishing to the on-lookers.

Terrifying Yells

Formidable and terrifying was the yell of the Indians as they galloped across the field. It was different from anything accidental ears are accustomed to, being a long drawn out "Ah-ah!" now higher and now lower, but at all times coming in unison from the galloping cavalrymen.

Then followed an exhibition of lance work and fancy riding, the equal of which is seen only among the cowboys of the far west or the Cossacks of Russia. Pegs were driven into the ground and four horsemen riding at full tilt dashed toward them, each impaling a peg on the tip of his lance. Only rarely did a rider miss.

To Mohammed Akram fell the chief honor of the day. Striking in the ground was a caricature of a German soldier, painted in black on a small flat piece of wood. The manikin was buried to its chin in mud and the Indian artist had decorated it with an iron cross. This formed the target for the sharp lance of the Indian rider. The crowd silent while, with a triumphant yell, muscles tense and black eyes aflame, he bore down on that painted board. He hit it square in the center, splitting the painted face from scalp to chin and a ripple of applause ran down the line.

In spite of the rigors of a cold and wet winter the Indians look exceptionally fit, and they are chafing for the time when they can get to the battle line.

ALL FOR A BABY.

From the Kansas City Times.

Among the news dispatches last week were two little stories which proved again that within each of us is a store of human sympathy that needs only an opportunity to well up and overflow in whole souled acts of helpfulness to others in distress.

On a Missouri Pacific train going to St. Louis a baby was born. The news of it went through the train from end to end, almost instantly. Five minutes before the train men and women on that train were strangers to each other, merely so many carloads of passengers, each in his or her seat, abiding as travelers do, each absorbed in his own thoughts or book or newspaper.

But when the word went through that a baby had just been born all of that coldness was changed into sympathy and compassion and a common desire to be helpful. A physician in the middle of his meal in the dining car threw down his napkin and rushed out to help. Women and traveling men went into their grips and in a wonderfully short time they got together enough emergency clothing for the baby. The mother was made comfortable in a Pullman berth, and when the train reached St. Louis the whole group of passengers, all acquainted now and drawn close together by one touch of human nature, gathered at the steps of the Pullman and made sure that mother and babe were doing well before they went their ways.

The other story came from New York. A sea captain living in Callao, Peru, had been ordered to New York city to take charge of a ship there. He had died nine days before. He started on the long voyage with three children, the eldest three years old, the next a girl of sixteen months, and the baby, nine days old, he carried an Indian nurse to care for them. The nurse took sick at Panama and had to be left behind. There was no time to get another. The captain and his three children boarded the ship for New York.

The news of these three motherless babes went through the big ship and the 100 passengers and the crew were filled with sympathy. A society woman of New York, who had the best cabin on board, took the three children in with her, and each woman on the vessel became a nurse.

Arrived in New York the captain of the ship said these three babies had to go to his home to live. The stewardess, a poor woman, said she had babies of her own and the three children must go to her house. Mrs. George B. Gerhals, daughter-in-law of the builder of the Panama canal, who was a passenger, declared that she must have them to care for. Finally all New York became interested in the story and offers to take the children came in by the thousands. The controversy was settled by placing the babies in the home of the Young Women's Christian association until the father has time to find a home of his own.

And the whole nation will be glad to know that the 9-days-old baby is doing finely.

That this entire country may be brought to take interest in the welfare of just one tiny baby was proved some 10 or 15 years ago when an infant was reported to have fallen down the narrow shaft of a farm well near Wichita.

It was reported that its cries could be heard at the bottom of the pipe but there was no way to reach it, and the people of this nation watched the newspapers, in deep anxiety and suspense, for news of that baby. Finally it was rescued, and the mothers of this land took a deep breath of relief.

A crisis will always bring out that sense of brotherhood that too often lies hidden and unused.

HIS DREAMS WON'T COME TRUE

From the New York Times

A man doing the work and bearing the responsibilities of Gen. Joffre would be so likely to look forward to doing nothing for the rest of his life, after his present grim task is completed, that one can almost believe the Paris paper which says he is planning, after the war, to buy a house boat and devote all his time to fishing. The floating home, this tale runs, is a move, or to be moved, along the innumerable canals and rivers which in France offer safe navigation for such craft, and as the general shares with what French literature shows to be a great number of his countrymen the belief that sport of the kind provided by these waters is highly enjoyable, the purpose credited to him may be one that he entertains—now.

That he will really do anything of the kind, except perhaps for a short time, is not to be credited, judging from the pictures in the French papers and books, the fishing of Frenchmen in their own country is done with a line on which is fastened a large and brightly painted boat, and the fisherman's pleasure is derived from sitting on the bank under a tree and watching the float through the long hours of a summer day. Whether or not any fish are caught seems not to matter at all which is indeed fortunate, since nothing ever is, according to practically all accounts. But there are occasional moments of mild excitement, when a nibbling minnow disturbs the verticality of the float's spindle, and there are recorded instances in French history as told by Guy de Maupassant, Marcel Prevost, Paul Bourget, Pierre Loti and other versatile annalists, when floats have been drawn quite under water by a real bite.

But though Gen. Joffre would doubtless enjoy this for a while, as an ultimate contrast to the horrors of his present occupation, the chances are that a few weeks of it in continuity would be enough for him. Besides, a victorious general—which of course he is going to be—would always have a "gallery" to help him watch his float, and with the French idea of fishing, as with every other, that would be wholly incompatible. So, though Gen. Joffre may think he is going to be a fisherman and spend endless days slowly drifting along canals, his career will be something quite different.

Are You Sure the Title to Your Land is All Right?

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, Herbert Quick, editor of that publication, tells the story of a farmer in Crawford County, Missouri, who, after working a farm for four years, has just discovered that the farm which he supposed he owned belongs to another. A fraud was perpetrated on this farmer by a land agent who gave him a deed calling for another farm than the one he showed him and upon which he has been living. The farm which he really owns is a poor rocky piece of land. Mr. Quick uses this story to teach farmers a lesson of being careful about their legal papers. Mr. Quick says in part:

"Because we forget to have a survey made, because we trusted a fellow man, because there are men who are too cowardly to commit murder and therefore kill people indirectly, this wonderful thing—our farm—is no more."

"It is a good thing for us all that thought cannot kill, especially for that swindling land agent. After all, he had to rob himself of everything which a real man holds of value before he reached the point of robbing this family—for a commission on the sale of a rockpile!"

"What shall we say? I have already written him a letter, but that can do him no good. Nobody but himself can do him much good."

H. H. Hopkins of Thomasville, Ga., is in the city on a publicity campaign for the American Tobacco Company.

JAPAN ORDERS ALL WAR VESSELS FROM AMERICAN PACIFIC

OIL TREATMENT FOR STOMACH TROUBLES

A simple prescription made up a combination of pure vegetable oils is producing wonderful results for sufferers from stomach, liver and intestinal troubles. The remedy, which is said to have originated in France, where it has been used for years by the peasantry, was introduced into this country by George H. Mayr, a leading Chicago druggist, who cured himself of severe stomach, liver and intestinal troubles by its use. Those who have used it say the first dose is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable merit, and that within twenty-four hours the sufferer feels like a new person. This medicine, which has become known as Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or doubt if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction. 35

Great interest has been aroused all over the state by Governor Henderson's appeal to the people of each county to hold special Tick Eradication meetings the last week in April.

This great work is a part of the follow-up plans of the Alabama Diversified Farming Association, organized to carry on the work of diversified farming and livestock raising that was begun in the great Diversified Farming Campaign.

Figures compiled by the United States Government Tick Eradication men and by officers of the Diversified Farming Association show that within the lifetime of the livestock now in Alabama the loss from the cattle tick in this state was over $20,000,000.

The loss in the market value of the one million cattle in the infested sections of the state was $8,000,000, or about $8 per head.

The loss in weight, on account of the ticks, was $3,500,000.

The loss from deaths on account of the fever caused by the ticks was $2,200,000.

The loss in milk supply due to the fever was $5,500,000.

The damage to hides amounted to $1,200,000.

This staggering total of losses in Alabama in the last three or four years from the cattle tick caused the Governor to issue his proclamation calling upon the people to eradicate this wealth destroying and health menacing parasite from Alabama. Reports coming in are that number of the Counties are going after tick eradication in a determined way, and that the people will get together the last week in April and decide to build enough vats to clean up the ticks in their counties. It is realized that almost any County in Alabama can become a fine livestock section as soon as the tick is eradicated.

Lauderdale, Madison, Jackson and a part of Sumter counties are already free of ticks and have been put above the quarantine line by the Government authorities. The Government and State Tick Eradication men are now working in Limestone, Perry, Dallas, Wilcox, Marengo, Henry and Montgomery counties.

Limestone County has 100 dipping vats, Perry has 95, Dallas has 128, Marengo has 80, Henry has about 90, Montgomery has 90. The State Government officials expect that each of these counties will be completely cleaned of the tick this year.

Mrs. G. H. Mathis, President of the Alabama Diversified Farming Association has received letters from leaders in counties all over the State saying that they will set aside one or two days in the last week of April for special Tick Eradication meetings. Government and State men are already to go into any county that votes for tick eradication and begin the work of building vats. "This is a vital work," says Mrs. Mathis. "Livestock is wealth, and we can be a great livestock section if we have enough dipping vats to get rid of the ticks. Let's get busy the last week in April and decide to clean up every County in the State."

RUSSIA'S STRUGGLE FOR AN OUTLET

From North American Review.

In this struggle, apart from the strange reversal of verdicts which has ranged the two mighty democracies of Europe shoulder to shoulder with its most powerful autonomy, is the astounding spectacle of those democracies fighting for the destruction of the very barriers which they have built up by force of arms to restrain that autonomy from dominating the world. Great Britain, which in 1877 had cleared decks for action in a determined effort to prevent Russia from approaching one step farther toward the forbidden strait is hurling its seneschals at the forts which Turkey has erected in its endeavors to conserve its existence and carry out the mandates of England in the past. France, which precipitated the Crimean war because she could not tolerate even the prospect of Russian mastery in the Near East suggested by Russia's claim to the right of protectorate over the Christians of the Ottoman Empire, is backing the British ally in the terrible bombardment with the obsolete Russian cruiser in the role ascribed in Scripture to the "little child."

Verily, an almost unbelievable contradiction, which might well cause Disraeli to lie uneasy in the peaceful shadows of Westminster Abbey and break the repose of Alexander I in the Kremlin.

And these operations have been undertaken at this stage of the general war because of a commercial necessity, the same necessity which has been the real motive beneath all the sentiment, religious and political, that has actuated the perpetual southward pressure of the Colossus of the North.

The guns of the allied fleet are beating down the barrier that is keeping the Russian wheat crop of last year cooped up in the Black sea. It is the argument of bread, the most powerful of all arguments, that is directing the fire of the gunners and the policies of their governments in the great assault upon the Dardanelles.

It is precisely the same motive—the motive of self-preservation—that has vitalized and perpetuated Russia's ambition to unfurl her flag over the towers of Constantinople.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, dyspepsia, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

YOU CAN'T RUB IT OUT WASH OUT DANDRUFF

The Simplest and Quickest Way is To Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about an ounce of ordinary liquid arrow: apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning you will find that your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arrow at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Double Service AUTOMOBILE TIRES

Guaranteed 7000 Mile Service
Absolutely Punctureproof.

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires. This 100% greater wearing surface naturally gives that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 plies of tough fabric and one inch surface tread absolutely punctureproof.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire—the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service style tires are in use in the United States government and European war service.

Our output is limited to a certain amount, but for a short time we offer the following reduced special prices as an introductory offer:

Tires	Ex-Heavy	Tube
28x3 in	$ 7.25	$2.20
30x3 in	8.50	2.30
30x3 1/2 in	10.85	3.30
